MORE THAN A TRADING PARTNER

We are focused on client service. We create added value in competitive terms by offering reliable supply, risk assessment, funding of the operations, possibilities of strategic partnerships and development of new businesses.

We promote international trade in the areas of our expertise by using our marketing knowledge, logistics and global resources to commercialize, transport and inspect where and when our services are requested. Our growth is based on a reliable, long-term relationship with our clients and trading partners.

Transmarine Europe operates in the cereals and vegetable oils market through alliances developed with companies solidly established in the different business areas in which it participates. To meet the demands of our customers, we provide the necessary support in the marketing and logistics processes.

Our commercial intermediation includes, among other things, oilseeds, soybeans and corn, as well as vegetable oils, both for human and animal consumption.
